18 CYPP PRIORITY: EMPOWERING FAMILIES TO BE STRONG AND ACHIEVE ECONOMIC WELLBEING

Part A – Crime and Drugs Partnership

Jane Lewis, Community Safety Strategy Manager and Domestic and Sexual Violence Strategic Lead, presented the report which informs the Board of what practices and approaches have been working well and achieving good results, what the challenges are and how partner organisations can help.

Also included within the report was detailed a domestic violence gap analysis.

The following points were highlighted:

- (a) the Domestic Violence Strategy has been refreshed and is due to be published next week;
- (b) there is a new formal definition of domestic violence which includes dropping the age criteria from 18 to 16 years old and identifying coercive control as a factor;
- (c) the Domestic Abuse Referral Team (DART) review is ongoing and aims to identify and analyse best practice;
- (d) challenges include:
 - (i) partner agencies engaging, particularly with regard to releasing trained staff to facilitate the programme of 'stronger families';
 - (ii) trying to get the healthy relationships programme into all primary and secondary schools, although there has been some support, more is needed;
 - (iii) maintaining the free 'friend' 24 hour domestic and sexual violence helpline funding. The Joint Commissioning Group is trying to stabilise the funding but it is an ongoing issue and partners may be called upon to assist;
 - (iv) with regard to the Saint Project, raising confidence in holding perpetrators to account;
 - (v) funding for next year's children's workers in refuges as it is very fragile.

Questions of the board were responded to as follows

- (e) work to raise awareness of and support for domestic violence affecting young people is taking place in schools and the young people's website but partners are encouraged to help raise awareness;
- (f) the inclusion of younger people by reducing the criteria age from 18 to 16 years old, has come about based on the experiences of young people living in Bilborough;
- (g) the Crime and Drugs Partnership Leadership Team are considering the overlay of domestic abuse with child sexual exploitation and modern slavery;
- (h) partners are asked to help train partner agency staff to deliver therapeutic help and support by ensuring the partners are more confident to deal with young people and the issues, this will help young people progress;
- (i) a lot of resources go into training colleagues which they are often too busy in their full-time roles to train others.

John Yarham, Chief Executive of Futures, commented that Futures has strong engagement with 15 to 18-year-olds, including secondary schools, so could prove a good link for raising awareness.

Helen Blackman, the Director of Children's Social Care, and Alison Michalska, Corporate Director of Children and Adults, requested information on who within the City Council had been trained to enable identification of blockages which prevented trained staff training others, in the recognition and response to domestic violence, in line with the ethos of the training provided by the Crime and Drugs Partnership, so that these blockages can be removed.

It is noted that training is not appropriate for all partners such as the Clinical Commissioning Group who are not front line and do not engage directly with citizens.

Other organisations and programs also provide training and should be encouraged to liaise and link with partners to help promote a co-ordinated approach.

Part B - Report of Assistant Chief Executive

Ben Horvath, Troubled Families Employment Advisor Manager, DWP, presented the report and delivered a presentation on the Troubled Families Programme which enables and encourages partner organisations to co-ordinate their services to support and enable troubled families to achieve social, emotional and economic stability, and therefore improve the potential outcomes for the whole family, including the children. The City Council's Priority Families Programme sits within the National Troubled Families Programme.

The following points were highlighted;

- (a) Nottingham City has some of the most challenging social issues but this programme supports a holistic approach to supporting specifically identified families to achieve improved social stability and economic resilience;
- (b) to help build resilience securing employment in a family is important;
- (c) partners within the programme are trained to recognise domestic violence and child sexual exploitation, and take appropriate action;
- (d) children of families who do not work are three times more likely not to work themselves so it is important to break the cycle and making support into work available;
- (e) unemployment can lead to a variety of mental health problems, substance-abuse and crime and antisocial behaviour, including domestic violence;
- (f) the Troubled Families website includes testimonies of citizens who have been assisted into work and how this has completely changed their lives and the lives of their family, both immediate and extended;
- (g) support to assist families back into work involves the help of a range of partners understanding and supporting all members of the family;
- (h) role modelling siblings has been found to be very important;
- (i) a two day Priority Family Training course is available to partners;
- (j) challenges include that there is not yet a whole family approach across all areas of the city and that some City Council and partner staff have not engaged with the whole family model.

RESOLVED

- (1) that with regard to the work of the Crime and Drugs Partnership, partner's support in resolving the following be considered and offers of assistance made (via Jane Lewis) with regard to:
 - (i) partner agencies engaging, particularly with regard to releasing trained staff to facilitate the programme of 'stronger families';
 - (ii) further support in trying to get the healthy relationships programme into all primary and secondary schools;
 - (iii) maintaining the free 'friend' 24 hour domestic and sexual violence helpline funding;
 - (iv) raising confidence in holding perpetrators to account (with regard to the Saint project);
 - (v) securing future funding for children's workers within refuges;
- (2) with regard to the Priority/Troubled Families Programme:
 - (i) communicating and promoting the Priority Families Model;
 - (ii) embed the 'Work Pays' message into the Children's Partnership as a solution to attaining resilience into the family;
 - (iii) promote economic well-being by supporting families with Universal Credit and the benefits this brings.

19 SMALL STEPS BIG CHANGES

Michelle Battlemuch, Head of Small Steps Big Changes (SSBC), delivered a presentation which is included within the agenda and informs the committee that:

- (a) SSBC is a 10 year programme funded by the big lottery and partnerships, with a focus on pregnancy and the first three years of child life in Aspley Bulwell Saint Ann's and Arboretum wards;
- (b) the focus of SSBC is to develop and improve children's:
 - (i) communication and language skills and ability;
 - (ii) nutrition;
 - (iii) social and emotional development;
- (c) SSBC provides parenting preparation and support with science and evidence-based activities and interventions which include:
 - (i) supported book giving
 - (ii) parent infant relationship assessment and guidance;
 - (iii) the Triple P parenting programme;

- (d) details of the 'Universal Healthy Child Program' pregnancy to first birthday, and aged 1 to age 4 are detailed within in the presentation;
- (e) the scheme strongly re-enforces the Children and Young People's Plan Priority of 'Empowering Families to be Strong and Achieve Economic Well-Being';
- (f) progress to date includes:
 - (i) recruitment of programme and specialist team members;
 - (ii) expansion of the Family Nurse Partnership;
 - (iii) the imagination library;
 - (iv) the development of the 'Baby Buddy' app which will be launched in late September;
 - (v) a refresh and relaunch of 'Bump Birth and Baby';
 - (vi) contracts awarded for 'Family Mentor' in Aspley and Bulwell Wards;
 - (vii) infant massage training;
 - (viii) universal screening for maternal mental health;
 - (ix) provision of a new consent form in the Red Book and an agreement for information sharing with Children's Centres;
- (g) Some of the most prominent challenges include:
 - (i) enabling the flexibility to adapt the programme to changing service offers during the next 10 years, including budget changes;
 - (ii) embedding the concept of universal services which are not targeted;
 - (iii) balancing local and national expectations of funds, funders and partners;
 - (iv) developing performance reporting structures across all partners.

Comments and questions of the committee were responded to as follows:

- (h) parental influence is vital so parents need to be equipped and skilled to do the best for their children;
- (i) a lot of training is needed for the workforce to deliver what is required;
- (j) all Health Visitors now ask and talk to pregnant women about domestic violence and abuse. This does not happen in hospitals but should be considered;
- (k) the success of this program will clearly have a positive impact on families and children by the time children reach school age, but it is not specifically structured to the needs of schools although further bridging could be considered.

RESOLVED to note and welcome the progress of the SSBC programme.

20 CHILD DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIC COMMISSIONING REVIEW

Chris Wallbanks, Strategic Commissioning Manager for Children, presented the report and delivered a presentation which informs the Board of the current Child Development Review being jointly undertaken by Nottingham City Council and Nottingham Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG).

The review intends to 'improve outcomes for pregnant women and their children through defined universal and early help pathway of services which will be delivered by an integrated, consistent and co-ordinated approach' and is taking place as a result of the opportunity for increased integration of commissioning and service delivery.

The programme for phase 1 of the review is outlined in the presentation with phase 2 to be reported to the next meeting. The new working model is expected to be implemented by April 2017.

Following thorough consultation, the redesigned pathway will ensure a consistent, evidence-based approach to child development services across the city and will support Small Steps Big Changes Programme, in addition to increased integrated working to support OFSTED inspections and identifying workforce approaches. It is predicted that integrated Area Teams will be delivering a new pathway within two years.

The rationale behind the review includes;

- (a) transfer the commissioning of Health Visitor and Nurse Practitioner responsibilities to Public Health from October 2015;
- (b) further develop the evidenced based programmes and approaches of Early Intervention City phase 2;
- (c) further develop the focus of joint working with the CCG;
- (d) support Small Steps Big Changes;
- (e) continue the drive for service improvement and efficiencies.

It is predicted that this review will be cost neutral but the finished product should save money. Some investment will be needed to embed a consistent evidence-based approach by a competent and confident workforce and move away from established cultures of working.

RESOLVED to note:

- (i) the purpose and core activities of the Child Development Strategic Commissioning Review;
- (ii) the progress of the Child Development Review;
- (iii) the timescale to move towards the implementation of the new pathway and integrated area teams;
- (iv) the link with Small Steps Big Changes programme and the potential of this review to become the mechanism to implement system change.

21 REFRESH OF THE CHILDREN'S PARTNERSHIP CORE DEVELOPMENT STANDARD AND THE PRIORITY FAMILIES TRAINING PROGRAMME

Candida Brudenell, Strategic Director of Early Intervention, and Lisa Hazell, Integrated Workforce Consultant, presented the report which proposes changes to the Strategic Core Development Standard.

The Core Development Standard, which links into the Priority Families Programme, was last considered by the Children's Partnership Board in 2013 and is designed as a framework to support a co-ordinated approach amongst all Children's Partnership partners. It has become apparent that a further update is necessary to best support and progress the knowledge and skills of the Children's workforce.

The most significant change is that where there were originally six key themes, there are now four:

- (i) Communication and Engagement;
- (ii) Child Development;
- (iii) Integrated Working and Information Sharing;
- (iv) Safeguarding and Welfare;

Within these four key themes the levels of training requirements are identified as;

- (i) the minimum skills and knowledge expected for the whole workforce from the workforce strategy;
- (ii) skills and knowledge for colleagues and managers who have no or minimal direct contact with children, young people or their families;
- (iii) skills and knowledge for colleagues and managers who have direct contact with children and young people or their families.

Information on the training available via the website is outlined in appendix B to the report and includes a comprehensive training facilitated by partner organisations with many aspects free of charge to partners.

Also available is the Nottingham Priority Family Training Programme for partner representatives who wish to work towards becoming a family partnership worker or accredited practitioner. The content of this training is outlined in appendix C to the report.

The Core Development Standard is still hosted on the Children's Partnership website (<http://www.nottinghamcity.gov.uk/ics/TrainingSkillsDevelopment>) offering training and skills development and opportunities information.

Comments and questions from partnership members and responses provided included:

- (a) further work is required to improve engagement with schools, including private schools. Training may be independently sourced, but the opportunity remains for them to utilise the Core Development Standard programmes offered within the partnership;

- (b) it is imperative that that all colleagues and partners working with children are equipped to identify child sexual exploitation (CSE) so while a rise in the uptake of CSE awareness courses is pleasing, there is still further work to be done;
- (c) it is a concern that whilst some courses, including safeguarding and CSE, are provided free of charge, people book but don't necessarily attend. It is possible that a 'no charge' course is considered to be of lower quality and isn't valued the same as a charged for course so further consideration of charging, possibly for 'non-attendance' bookings, is needed.

RESOLVED

- (1) to approve the improvements and changes to the Strategic Core Development Standard;
- (2) for each agency to look at 'best fit' within their own training plans to show consistency of developing practitioners in line with the Strategic Core Development Standard;
- (3) to note where partners needed training delivery support; the offer of buying elements of the core offer from Nottingham City Council if or when required;
- (4) for further consideration to be given to the charging arrangements for the skills development courses provided within the Strategic Core Development Standard.

22 YOUTH CABINET QUARTERLY REPORT

Uzair Hashmi and Chloe Mullins, members of the Youth Cabinet, presented the report which outlined the work of the Youth Cabinet during the second quarter of 2015-16 which had included a trip to Karlsruhe Youth Conference 2015.

The report included the participation in governance calendar for the academic year 20 1516 which identified the following themes for the next three quarters:

- education work and training;
- safe lives, positive neighbourhoods;
- healthy creative you.

RESOLVED for partners to consider using and promoting the 'Participation in Governance Programme' to engage children and young people and create meaningful and rewarding opportunities for them to participate in decision-making.

23 KEY MESSAGES AND ITEMS FOR INFORMATION

Partners are encouraged to assist in facilitating training, as discussed during the empowering families to be strong and achieve economic well-being agenda item.

Partners are requested to ensure timely response to the Child Development Review consultation.

24 FORWARD PLAN

RESOLVED to note the Children's Partnership Board Forward Plan for 2015/16.
