

HR Comments on DDM - Broad Marsh - Development Advisor

Management should carefully consider the need for Consultants in light of the vacancy freeze implemented by CLT with immediate effect and consider internal resource options first.

The Council does not directly employ such specialist practitioners, any time to create, evaluate and recruit to a post could directly impact timescales for the project therefore this is not a practical solution. The process has been followed to date and a preferred supplier has now been identified.

The proposal to engage a Consultant due to the specialist nature of the work is therefore supported.
