Brief description of proposal / policy / service being assessed:

To transfer Nottingham City's statutory Hospital Home Education offer to in-patients of the CAMHS adolescent in-patient unit at Thorneywood to the new regional in-patient CAMHS adolescent unit in Sherwood, Nottingham from April 2018

Information used to analyse the effects on equality:

Nottinghamshire Healthcare NHS Trust are closing their current 12-bed CAMHS adolescent in-patient unit at Thorneywood and are transferring to a new purpose built 32 bed in-patient regional CAMHS centre (which includes an 8 bed Psychiatric Intensive Care Unit) ; this is to meet the rising need for in-patient CAMHS care across the region. Nottingham City Council provide education to in-patients of the unit – it is their statutory duty to do; this education is provided by the Hospital Home Education Learning Centre (HHELC) Pupil Referral Unit and ensures that any child or young person who is unable to access education in school due to medical reasons has access to relevant education.
